

PT2: Pattaya City Tour (Half Day Tour)

Destination Pattaya

Duration Half Day 3 Hours

Tour Description

Pattaya City is a big city, the second after Bangkok. It is located right on the beach. It has a spirit of tourism, not business like the city of Bangkok. It has some big malls, many hotels, international food, a nice island in front (Koh Larn). Pattaya is close to Bangkok, just 2 hours by bus, 150km.

Phratumnak Hill is located at the border of South Pattaya and Jomtien. The top of the hill is one of the best viewpoints overlooking the crescent bay of Pattaya. It is a popular spot amongst the tourists, especially at the sunset and at night when the city is lit up. Located at the summit is Wat Khao Phra Bat on the southern side, a monument of HRH Admiral Kromluang Chomphon Khet Udomsak, the founding Father of the modern Royal Thai Navy, facing the north overlooking the sea. Royal Thai Navy's radio station is also located on the hilltop.

Wat Khao Phra Bat or Wat Khao Phratamnak is located on Khao Phratamnak. It lies opposite to the viewpoint on the hill. There is an imitation of the Buddha's footprint, Buddha images of the day and beautiful mondop

Wat Phra Yai (Big Buddha) Constructed in 1977, Wat Phra Yai houses the golden Buddha image of Phra Buddha Sukhothai Walai Chonlathan or Luang Pho Yai in Subduing Mara gesture. The image is approximately 18 meters high. The stairways feature Naga. There are also 7 Buddha images of the day on the temple ground.

The Gem Factory in Pattaya is a must visit if you ever go to Pattaya, Thailand. There with will receive a complimentary soft drink before boarding on a short informative trolley ride to learn the brief history of mining and jewelry crafting in Thailand. Once this is done, you will enter the showroom which has two sections, Gems and Gold section, and the Pearl section. The jewelry craftsmanship is mind blowing!
